CONSENT TO PARTICIPATE IN RESEARCH

Perception of speech sounds in various languages

Introduction and Purpose

My name is Keith Johnson. I am a professor at the University of California, Berkeley, in the Department of Linguistics. I am planning to conduct a research study, which I invite you to take part in. You are being invited to participate in this study because you are a speaker of American English. The purpose of this study is to observe speech perception based on audio recordings of speech.

Procedures

If you agree to be in this study, you will be asked to listen to short audio clips of speech, and to choose between two possible interpretations of the sentence. Then, you will be asked to complete a short survey about yourself. You will have an opportunity to look at the questionnaire before you start. The study should take about 20 minutes to complete.

Benefits

There is no direct benefit to you anticipated from participating in this study. It is hoped that the research will improve our understanding of speech communication.

Risks/Discomforts

It is possible that some of the research questions may make you uncomfortable or upset. You are free to decline to answer any questions you don't wish to, or to stop participating at any time. As with all research, there is a chance that confidentiality could be compromised; however, we are taking precautions to minimize this risk.

Confidentiality

Your study data will be handled as confidentially as possible. If results of this study are published or presented, individual names and other personally identifiable information will not be used. Your name will never be associated with data you provide – you will be assigned an anonymous subject number, and we will not record your MTurk Worker ID in our data files. To minimize the risks to confidentiality, I will not collect any identifiable information.

When the research is completed, I may save your responses. I will retain this study information indefinitely. The same measures described above will be taken to protect confidentiality of this study data.

Compensation

In return for your time, you will be paid $5 for taking part in this study.

Rights

Participation in research is completely voluntary. You are free to decline to take part in the project. You can decline to answer any questions and are free to stop taking part in the project at any time. Whether or not you choose to participate, to answer any particular question, or continue participating in the project, there will be no penalty to you or loss of benefits to which you are otherwise entitled.
